Joseph A. Di Giorgio is being honored this evening as the 1975 Columbian Award Recipient. "J.A." as he is known, has dedicated much of his life to furthering the basic aim of the Italian Heritage Dante Association; that is to foster an interest in the perpetuation of various aspects of Italian Culture, including the arts, music and sciences. The Italian Heritage Dante Association strives to create an awareness of the contributions, to our society, made by Italian-Americans. The Columbian Award, given annually, was originated to recognize individuals who have distinguished themselves in service to our community. Joseph A. Di Giorgio joins a select array of past recipients including, Louis Agnetti, Frank Jeppi, Guido Martini, Joseph Giumarra, James Petrini, Ugo Sandrini, Arnold T. Cattani, A. Perelli-Minetti, Harry Amenta, Gus Sorci and Art Tognini.

Our door prize this evening was made possible through the courtesy of Louis E. Agnetti and Sam Tobias, owners of San Joaquin Tractor Co. They have provided for some lucky person a $250.00 merchandise order with Brock's Department Stores. The Italian Heritage Dante Association wishes to extend a special thanks to Mr. Agnetti and Mr. Tobias for their generosity.

The Officers and members of Italian Heritage Dante Association thank you for joining with us in celebration of Columbus Day.
